PRETTY EVENING WEDDING.

Miss Marie C. Schlenz United to Wilhelm Brucker of Woodfield, O.

Miss Marie C. Schlenz, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Schlenz, of 214 Chestnut street, was married to Rev. Wilhelm Brucker, of Woodfield, Ohio, last evening, in the Chestnut Street German Presbyterian church. The auditorium was filled with the friends of the popular young lady and the altar railing and pulpit were artistically decorated with ferns, chrysanthemums and roses. At 5 o'clock the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Edna Saxo, heralded the approach of the bridal party. The ushers, Thomas Saville and Jacob Pfeiffer, followed by the bridegroom and bridesmaid, Miss Emma Schlenz, a sister of the bride, proceeded up the aisle. Immediately following came the bride leaning upon the arm of the groomsmen, Carl Brucker, a brother of the groom.

At the altar falling the bride party were met by Rev. Jacob Schoettle, pastor of the church, and Rev. J. C. Rudolph, of Baltimore, who performed the wedding ceremony according to the Presbyterian ritual. At the conclusion of the nuptials, the party left the church while Mendelssohn's march was being played. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of cream silk tulle, and carried white bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore white organdie over blue silk, and carried pink bridal roses.

The bridal party repaired to the residence of the bride's parents where a post-nuptial repast was served to the immediate family and intimate friends. Rev. and Mrs. Brucker departed via the 12:55 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train for Woodfield, O., where they will reside. Mrs. Brucker is a young lady who enjoys a wide circle of acquaintances. Rev. Mr. Brucker is not a stranger here. He was pastor of the church in which he was married, during the years from 1893 to '95. He is now pastor of the German Lutheran church at Woodfield, Ohio.

The out of town guests present at the reception were: Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Rudolph, of Baltimore, Ohio; Mrs. T. D. Duesman, of Clark's summit; Carl Brucker, of Webster, N. Y. Those from this city were: Rev. and Mrs. Jacob Schoettle, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roth, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Finch, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hinman, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Schlenz, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Burdell, Mr. and Mrs. John Lobman, Mrs. Dora Schell, and the Misses Carrie and Nettie Duesman, Carrie La Bar, Edna Saxo, Sadie Thomas, Elizabeth and Christine Schlabert, Grace Hipman, Elizabeth Pfeiffer, and Flora Bartel; Thomas Saville, Jacob Pfeiffer, Charles Leber, Christian Hess, Rev. Eugene Weiskopf, and Frederick Schlenz.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

David T. Richards, of 1010 Scranton street, and Joseph Williams, coachman for John T. Richards, of Tenth street, narrowly escaped injury and probable death yesterday while driving across the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Lackawanna avenue crossing. The two men were returning from a trip to the central city, and reached the crossing about 12:50. Just as they were midway across, without the slightest warning, the axle of the front pair of wheels, snapped in twain and both of the occupants were thrown from the vehicle. Mr. Williams pluckily held his horse which is a mettlesome animal and a bystander assisting the danger of a runaway was averted. Mr. Richards who is well on in years and not in the best of health was considerably shaken by the sudden fall, but neither of the men were hurt. To add to the excitement the water were being lowered for the approach of the noon passenger which was bearing down upon them. The train was stopped and the horse and wrecked vehicle removed.

MEETING OF CANDIDATES.

Another meeting of the prospective candidates for ward offices of the Fourth ward was held last evening at T. P. Jones' hall, on North Main avenue. William J. Thomas, chairman, called the meeting to order and a report was heard from the committee on printing appointed at the last meeting. Plans were arranged for holding the caucus Saturday afternoon, Dec. 11, at 4 o'clock. It was decided to hold another meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, at the same place. The candidates present at last evening's meeting were: William J. Thomas, Evan P. Davies and Simon Thomas for the select council; William V. the herbage and grass, or browsing the foliage and trees and shrubs. Of course they greatly injure the plants they feed upon, and therefore many plants are in one way or another protected against such attacks.

Did you ever stop to think why thistles are so well armed with sharp prickles or why the ugly roadside nettles are furnished with stinging hairs? Notice cattle grazing in a field where thistles or nettles grow; see how careful they are to let those disagreeable plants alone. That is the reason for the stings and the spines. See this honey locust tree bristling with its horrid array of three-pointed thorns. When an animal is brave enough to try to rob it of its leaves or great pods? Hawthorns, too, and rose bushes and blackberry briars all have their sharp little swords and daggers to defend themselves against browsing animals.

Out on the wide, hot deserts of Arizona and New Mexico those odd plants, the cacti, grow in great numbers. Some of them take strange shapes—tall, fluted columns, branching candleabra, or more round balls, like the melon cactus. They are almost the only plants that grow in some parts of that country, and there is always plenty of sap inside their tough skins. To the hungry and thirsty creatures that roam those dreary wastes in search of food and water they are very tempting. Were they not in some way protected, these cacti would soon be entirely destroyed. But nature has made them to be like strong forts or great armored battlements among plants. They are guarded by all sorts of sharp spines and prickles and fine hairs that burn when they get into the flesh.
